

PEACE DOVE IS NOW HOVERING OVER IRELAND

20,000 Persons Visit Clearfield County Fair Thursday

Belief Prevails That Irish Will Accept Invitation To Attend Peace Parley

Latest Lloyd Note Termed "Without Strings" And Leaves Open Door To DeValera's Acceptance With Honor

RIOTING RAGES IN TIPPERARY

London, England, September 30.—With Lloyd George's reply to De Valera generally accepted as conciliatory in tone, and not calculated to offend the Sinn Fein leaders, the belief is prevalent here that the Irish President will accept the invitation to a conference in London on October 11th and thus bring to an end the correspondence which has gone back and forth over the Channel since July.

"How can Sinn Fein refuse?" London diplomats are asking, "In view of the fact that this latest note is nothing more than a frank invitation to DeValera to talk the situation over without strings and without conditions?"

Information from Dublin is to the effect that the public is pleased with the tone of the reply and feels that the door is left open for DeValera's acceptance "in all honor."

Rioting in Tipperary
Dublin, Sept. 30.—Reports from town of Tipperary where an armed conflict raged through the streets until the military forces succeeded in taking over the entire district indicate that one civilian was killed and two police and two civilians seriously wounded. The fighting was for the most part between civilians and police.

Scanned Only Explanation.
Willow had seen the various peddlers come through the alley with horses and wagons pulling their wares. So when the sellers grinder appeared one day carrying the bulky machine on his back there seemed to be but one explanation possible to the lad. When the man came near enough Willie asked sympathetically: "Mister, is your horse dead?"

Yankee Doughboys Like Their Billet On Banks Of The Rhine

Soldiers Pay Fattened By German Exchange, Hope For Treaty Delay

Coblenz, Sept. 30.—The longer those Democrats in the Senate succeed in stalling off action on the treaty with Germany the better the boys of the American Force of Occupation on the Rhine, now being inspected by General Pershing will appreciate it.

They don't want to go home what with banks buying their good dollars for about 126 marks apiece and every payday is an occasion for the amassing of great wealth.

It is significant that since the Army restored "the buying out" process by which a man was privileged to get himself loose from the service not a single Yankee on the Rhine has made use of the privilege.

Morale Splendid
The morale of the American troops is splendid and their condition the best, General Pershing has designated a composite battalion composed of the finest of this army, to accompany him to Paris for the ceremony of presenting to the Unknown Soldier the Congressional Medal of Honor.

The color guards of this battalion will be men six feet two and weighing 200 pounds or more. The battalion as a whole consists of strapping big fellows of similar height and appearance.

FAMOUS PAPERS ORDERED MOVED FROM STATE DEPT.

Declaration Of Independence And Constitution Taken To Congress Library

Washington, D. C. Sept. 30.—(By United News).—President Harding today issued an executive order transferring the original copies of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States from the State Department to the Library of Congress.

This action was taken because it was not considered the State Department is a safe and modern enough building in which to keep these documents and also that they may be in a place easily available to the public.

PETTY THIEVERIES AND LOSSES AT THE COUNTY FAIR

There were no evidences of pickpockets being at work at the fair yesterday afternoon, although several persons reported losses of money and pocket books.

Mrs. M. C. Dinger, wife of Dr. Dinger, of Morrisdale, lost a silk purse or bag off her arm while taking in the sights. She didn't think the bag was stolen, but that it had been wrenched from her arm accidentally while traveling about in the crowd.

A Philipsburg woman dropped a purse containing about $11 off her lap while watching the races. When she missed her money she made a search for it but alas it had taken wings.

Washington, D. C. Sept. 30.—(By United News).—The Democratic minority in the Senate Thursday went on record unanimously in support of the Harding Disarmament Conference.

A resolution was adopted in caucus stating it to be the sense of the meeting that "the fullest measure of success attends the conference."

Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, of Pottsville, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Leavy while attending the fair.

The greatest single institution at the park and the one which elicited the most favorable comment from fair visitors was the ladies rest room just completed and opened for the first time at this fair.

The rest room was indeed a happy thought, the needs for same being apparent to all by the use to which it was put.

Tired women and tired children enjoyed its homely comforts every hour of the afternoon and evening. The Women's Club had general charge and they certainly were equal to the task. They had the handsome new building very comfortably furnished and saw to it that nothing was left un-

Estimate 20,000 Persons Saw The Fair Yesterday—Everybody Pleased With Fine Exhibits—Steady Stream Of Cars From Eight O'clock In Morning On

WELL KNOWN HORSEMAN HURT IN RACE

Clearfield County's Big Fair made history yesterday and is justly entitled to be styled the biggest and best fair ever held in this section of the state. The weather was ideal and the crowds began to roll in as early as 8 o'clock in the morning. Before 10 o'clock there was a line of automobiles extending from the park gate to the B. R. & P. station on Turnpike Avenue, with a double line down Nichols and Merrill streets for several blocks, while steady streams of pedestrians were making their way into the big fair grounds.

It was early apparent that the crowd would be a banner one, but by 1:30 o'clock all previous attendance records went by the board and when the afternoon program began, conservative estimates placed the crowd at no less than twenty thousand people.

PASSENGERS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN BUS WRECK

Thirty-five passengers in a big Fullington auto bus had a narrow escape from serious injury or even death shortly after noon Thursday when the big car and a local freight train collided on the New York Central crossing just this side of Philipsburg. The bus was headed for Clearfield with its passengers and the train was running to Munson.

According to varied accounts of the wreck, it happened so quickly that none of the passengers was really able to tell exactly what occurred. Suffice to say after the bus and train came together the bus was the loser in the ensuing argument, rolled down an embankment and turned over on its side. The passengers, tossed about like straws in a high wind, were imprisoned and windows on the upper side of the bus were broken to take them, the wreckage.

Investigation showed, it is claimed, that outside of minor bruises and cuts only one person was much more than shaken up. Herbert Katen, 16, of Chester Hill, was thought to have been seriously hurt, but when taken to the Cottage State Hospital examination showed he had suffered no broken bones. Many of the passengers were women and children.

At Fullington was driving the bus and in explaining the happening said that his vision of the crossing was obstructed by some trees or shrubbery along the road. When he saw the train and realized he could not make it over the crossing he jammed on his brakes and had the machine almost stopped when the train hit it hard enough to toss it down over the bank.

Everything Crowded
The army of spectators crowded every section of the park and lined the fence around the track ten or twelve deep from gate to gate. Grandstand and bleachers were filled to overflowing and several hundred people "overdowed" into the grass on the side of the track.

It was a good natured crowd, on pleasure bent, and they appeared to be enjoying every minute of the time. The very entertaining racing program occupied the attention of the majority of the fair-goers and clearly demonstrated that they have not yet invented any amusement that will take the place of the good old-fashioned "horse" race.

Holy Contested, Driver Hurt
The races were all hotly contested and were highly enjoyable. But one accident marred the racing program. This occurred during the first heat of the 2:15 Pace, the third event of the afternoon's racing program. There were four horses in this event. Just after rounding the second turn near the entrance, Don G., a harness of pacer, owned and driven by Chas. Middagh of Millin, which was on the inside, stepped into a soft place in the track. As his front feet stuck in the mud the harness tripped him and he turned a somersault. The sulky rose in the air and Driver Middagh was thrown over the horse lighting on his feet at least thirty feet beyond the prostrate horse. As the other racers went past, nearby spectators rushed to the rescue of the fallen horse and driver. Mr. Middagh very gamely arose and hobbled up the bank alongside the track, but the horse entangled in the harness lay where he fell until the harness was taken off him. When he jumped to his feet apparently none the worse for the spill.

Mr. Middagh in alighting on his feet snapped off both the bones in his right leg near the ankle and he was made comfortable on the grass until Dr. Wilson was summoned from among the spectators at another part of the grounds. He bandaged up the fractured leg and the unfortunate horseman was removed in the ambulance to the Clearfield Hospital where the fracture which is a bad one, was reduced and the leg placed in a cast.

At the hospital in discussing the accident he said all the drivers knew of the bad place in the track at turn and he was trying to avoid it when crowded over into it by F. V. Emerick, of Johnstown, who was driving "Ima Twinkle."

The heat was won by "Carlos Patch," driven by MacMillan, of Vandergrift, Pa. At the finish of the heat while the horses were coming down the stretch, Emerick crowded MacMillan over against the fence and deliberately prevented him from finishing where he belonged. It was the most palpable foul and the most deliberate dirty work ever perpetrated in a race on the local track.

Tunnel That Helped to Dig Itself. In the Simpson tunnel under the Alps, which is by far the greatest tunnel in the world, the quantity of water flowing out of the southern end, from the many veins encountered in the heart of the mountain, amounted to 15,000 gallons a minute, and furnished sufficient power to compress the air by which the drills were worked, and to refrigerate the tunnel. The necessity for refrigeration may be judged from the fact that the heat in the deeper parts of the tunnel rose as high as 150 degrees Fahrenheit when not artificially reduced.

How can you say that no one knows it?"

THE GRANARY

A Column of News and Timely Topics for the Man Who Feeds the World

PRODUCE AND EAT GOOD BEEF

The source of good beef comes only from animals which have had good feedings and good breeding, and those cattle which especially receive the best and most careful feeding makes the most appetizing beef. Fat steers only produce prime or even choice beef, whereas, fancy porterhouse steaks and rib roast come from the best blood. Therefore better the breeding the better the meat.

When selecting a piece of meat, says Dr. T. E. Munce, director of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, choose one of a bright attractive red color in which the fat is hard and smooth, with the color of some ranging from a light cream to white. Those cuts of meat which are of a pale watery pink or dark blackish red, with dark or "cowy" yellow fat, usually come from inferior animals, for instance, those lacking the proper finish. Good meat should have lean, firm and velvety touch, and not the wet, coarse touch of the poorer class.

The fat should be flaky and well interspersed or marbled between the muscle fibers, while the muscles as a whole should present full bulging appearance as if abundantly supplied with juiciness.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture has observed that the tenderness and flavor contained in good beef is eagerly sought and willingly paid for by the public.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"By Skinny"

More than twenty thousand people crowded into the Clearfield Driving Park yesterday for the purpose of attending the Clearfield County Fair. It was the largest crowd ever within that enclosure at any one time and every person came away satisfied they had received their money's worth. The Clearfield County Fair, an experiment five years ago, is now an assured annual feature for the people of this region. It took several seasons to live down what had gone before, but with Clearfield's business men behind the movement confidence has been established and the fair is getting better each year. Likewise the attendance. This year the exhibits of every kind eclipsed anything ever gotten together in this section of Pennsylvania and their showing will go a long way toward establishing Clearfield as an agricultural county. Another thing that was demonstrated at this fair was the fact that the people sure do want to see horse racing. They prefer good clean racing, but they do want racing. That was clearly shown by a survey of the big crowd taken for the purpose of determining what and where the people were interested in. The Clearfield County Fair will be bigger and better than ever before next year. Mark the prediction.

An organized movement to create sentiment for the remission of war debts owed to the United States is under way in France, Belgium and Italy, according to Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democrat, of Arkansas. Senator Robinson, who has just returned from Europe, said the movement in some quarters results at times in anti-American agitations. He added:

"It is claimed that the United States is wealthy, and made comparatively small sacrifices in life and treasure during the war, and that we should now make this additional contribution to the cause of the Allies."

The above certainly makes fine reading for the American ex-servicemen who fought Europe's battles but now have to be provided army equipment free in order to sustain and shelter them while out of employment.

A commission to fight against an old fashioned bone dry invasion of Europe by an international Prohibition movement originating in the United States was appointed by the International Anti-Prohibition Congress at Lausanne, Switzerland.

The necessity for the wets to work in close co-operation to prevent the dry forces gaining the ascendancy in Europe was the sole topic of the day. The commission is composed of two delegates from each country represented in the congress. It will call an international meeting in London as soon as practicable.

The August statement of earnings of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, the railroad owned and operated by Henry Ford, shows an increase of $364,698 in gross income total receipts being $763,340. Net operating income amounted to $70,443, compared with a deficit of $561,960 in the corresponding month of last year.

President Harding says the treasury must not be drained in the effort to find employment: "Excess of stimulation from the treasury is to be reckoned a cause of trouble." But on the other hand look at this: The Railroad Refunding bill which hands a half billion dollars of the people's money over to the railroads of the country, to pay dividends, will be pressed for passage at the first opportunity according to Senator Cummins, the Santa Claus of the railroads in the U. S. Senate.

President Harding will urge expedition on the railroad bill when taxation and peace are out of the way. Credits which the War Finance Corporation may float shall remain at $500,000,000, although more than half of the $300,000,000 of railroad securities have been disposed of by the Director General of Railroads.

Liberty Bonds are going up, according to stock market reports. Financial experts say this is due to the fact that the bonds bought by patriotic poor or working men, who purchased the bonds originally for the laudable purpose of financing his country at war and who was forced by the existing business depression to sell his bonds at a loss are now in the hands of the "money changers" and they are interested in shooting the government's obligations back to par or one hundred cents on the dollar, where they always should have been, and these latter gentry will reap the profits by marketing the "poor man's patriot-ism." It's a great game.

WOODEN SHIP SALE DEAL IS NOW SAID TO BE ALL OFF

Attorney For Shipping Board Makes This Statement Yesterday

Washington, D. C. Sept. 30.—(By United News)—The "wooden ship" deal between the Shipping Board and the Ship Construction Trading Co. is off, Elmer Schlesinger, attorney for the Board, has announced.

The sale of ships, he declared, was originally advertised as consisting of 237 vessels, but as 107 have been either disposed of or were held up pending sale, the bid made by the Ship Construction company last August was for the remaining 130 vessels at a rate of $2100 per ship.

Provisional acceptance of the bid was made by the Shipping Board and the company sent their check to the board of $40,270 it was said. Pending the receipt of this check and before it had been banked for payment the board passed a resolution to the effect the contract made between them and the Ship Company was not in conformity with their original correspondence and was therefore considered invalid.

ANOTHER HOOTCH SHIP THREATENED WITH CAPTURE

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—(By United News)—Another "hootch ship" was threatened with capture by revenue officials Thursday. A cutter was maneuvering off Atlantic City awaiting the arrival of the vessel which, according to special Agent Norman Brooks, was bringing a cargo of liquor from the Bahamas.

Travel of Light and Sound. Sound is said to move at the rate of 30 miles a minute, and, compared to light, it is slower than a snail. If we should hear a clap of thunder half a minute after a flash of lightning, we could calculate that the discharge of electricity was about six and a half miles away.

Money of Ancient Britons.

Sword-shaped bars of iron were used by the ancient Britons as money, and many of these are now found in British museums. A recent investigation shows that six different denominations were used, distinguished by their size.

To match wallpaper successfully, instead of cutting the paper to fit it across irregularly, the white design made by the tearing will not be on the patch, but on the unteared paper. By matching the design the patch will be almost invisible.

THE NEXT FAIR

We echo the sentiments of the twenty thousand attendants at the County Fair when we say that the fair is all that any fair-minded person could ask for, in fact a great deal more than could reasonably be expected. A good comparison was made by one of the traveling exhibitors, who has been traveling over Pennsylvania circuits all this season. He declared that for quality of exhibits and amusements our fair is ahead of any he has visited.

This evening the fair will be history, but the results will be an increased interest in the agricultural and stock raising industry of the county and an assured patronage for next year. The time is ripe for the complimenting of the hard-working officials of the Fair Association and the Park Association who have worked hand in hand and with hands to make the fair the success that it is. The improvements that have been made on the grounds are only a small part of the big things that are to be done in the future and in the near future. Next year you will see the results of your valued patronage this year. As to exhibits, we believe you will see an even greater exhibit of live stock than this year. The cattle, hog, and horse exhibits were the mecca of thousands of people and most of them were amazed at the strides being made by Clearfield countians in blooded cattle and hogs. The fact of the matter is that we are just finding out what can be done in this industry and the exhibits this year will prove an impetus to the hundreds of farmers who have been thinking of going into the business.

What can you do to make the 1922 fair eclipse this year? Think it over. Lay your plans now.

AN ENJOYABLE FEATURE

One of the popular places at the fair was the carnival, and when this admission is freely made by this newspaper, which has always opposed carnivals, it is with a view to pointing out what made it popular.

The rides, which always have their appeal to the children and the younger element, and the shows, numerous and interesting, had all they could accommodate. The elimination of the paddle wheels and other forms of dignified gambling, together with the incessant noise and clatter of their operators, made of the Ferraris, Shows, a real show place.

The determined stand taken by District Attorney Arnold against paddle wheels and similar devices has had a wonderful effect. It has demonstrated that a carnival can be clean. It has made it possible for the Fair Association to put a carnival on the grounds without having to shoulder the responsibility of running a gambling place. It has rid our county fair of a nuisance which every fair has to contend with because of spineless public officials who give no aid to those who want to conduct public amusement enterprises in a way that will appeal to the general public.

A HINT TO OUR HOSTS

The call of the dance hall will soon be heard by Young America. The longer winter evenings, with weather soon to prohibit outdoor pleasures, will cause a revival of social affairs. Let us hope our hosts this winter will provide music that will be a real pleasure. On the subject of modern dance music, under the heading "Jazz," we read the following and believe our readers will approve. It is from the pen of the able editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit:

"What the world gains in culture in twenty generations is lost in a few years during a great war. The forward march of civilization, striking the walls and battlements of a conflict which involves the flower of the human race, rebounds with tremendous force. In nothing else is the backward movement more noticeable than in the modern dance. There is nothing left of dancing but the monotonous one-step of the Zulu and the Hotentot, and jazz is only an imitation of the most primitive instruments used by the savages at dog-bakes and snake dances. Even the chant of the savages is imitated in so-called jazz singing. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that, in dance music, the world has backed up twenty generations in the past five years. The jazz orchestra has banished everything out of which a semblance of music might be obtainable save the piano, and that can scarcely be heard above the hideous uproar of howlers and bangers. The violin, most expressive of all instruments, has been banished. The sweet-toned flute and clarinet are no longer heard and even the saxophone is being barred as too melodious. This coarse stuff, born in the slums of the large cities, surely cannot last. The pendulum must certainly take a backward swing from this crude vulgarity to something at least just a little better. Otherwise music as an art will be lost. It is at least to be hoped that some of the artistic music of past years will be preserved in phonograph records, many of which have been already tainted with the diabolical spirit of jazz."

Why Is Carbonated Ice Cream the purest?

If you examined ice cream under a microscope you would find it full of tiny bubbles of air. In ordinary ice cream this is the common air which everyone breathes, never perfectly pure. We make ice cream by substituting carbonation for the ordinary aeration, using an atmosphere 100 times more pure, sterile, germ free—the same atmosphere used in making carbonated water.

KEYSTONE

is made ONLY by the Heath process of carbonating. It is as pure as ice cream can be made. Carbonated Ice Cream is not only the purest but the most delicious. Just as carbonated water brings out the flavor and fragrance of syrups so does carbonating bring out the richness and full flavor of the pure fruits and fruit juices we use in flavoring our ice cream.

Ice Cream Can't Be Made Better

It costs us an enormous amount every year to give you this better ice cream, but we don't count the cost when quality and purity are at stake. Insist on getting only our CARBONATED ICE CREAM when you buy it.

NAVY OBLIGED TO WIPE OUT NAVAL RESERVE

(By United News)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Due to lack of funds the Navy Department has been compelled to virtually wipe out the Naval Reserve Corps.

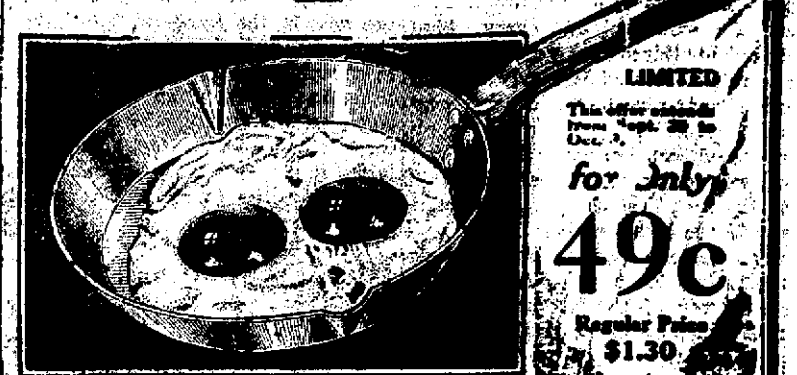

An official announcement by the Department declares all members of the force except classes 1 and 6 are to be disenrolled or transferred to the Volunteer Naval Reserve. Approximately 195,000 officers and men are affected by the order and it is estimated the disenrollment will save the government approximately $7,000,000. Enrollment in the Volunteer Naval Reserve, which is being urged by the navy, has no wage. In addition to these classes, one and six of the Reserve, those officers and men in Classes 2, 3, 4 and 5 now on active duty and those of the Reserve Board who have taken examination for transfer to the permanent navy, are not affected by the order.

EVAPORATED MILK

With The High School Gridiron Squad

Coach Crane has been handicapped the last week in the selection of a varsity or "regular scrub", due to the fact of minor injuries that descended on the squad within a few days.

Captain Torrence has been kept out of active scrimmage due to a bruised shoulder, but as a result of the trainer's care should start the Altoona game.

George Bachelor, a promising back field man, received a wrenched shoulder in practice.

Lawrence Howe and "Hody" Johnson, have both been bumped hard in the knee regions. Howe's injury will keep him on the side lines for the early season games, but the tendons of Johnson's knee were not so badly strained and he is still able to get off his twisting stunts.

Tom Betts, who seem to have the edge on the other candidates for center, sprained his ankle in a pile-up "Tub" loss on the line will be felt, as Betts possessed a lot of that poundage so much in demand on C. H. S.'s light line rush.

Pearce, another man working out for the center post has been out of field tugs for the past few days, with a badly blistered foot, that became infected. Pearce was lost on Monday while Betts injury followed in a day.

Despite these casualties the Coaching staff have been bolstering the Red and Black machine's weakness in every department and will present a strong line-up to oppose the Blair county metropolis team.

DUBOIS VOTERS SEEK RETURN TO BOROUGH GOVT.

Twenty-five per cent of the voters of DuBois have petitioned Mayor Hoag and the City Council to call an election submitting to the electors of the big town the matter of giving up the Third Class City Charter, and reverting back to the borough form of government.

Under the law governing such proceedings when twenty-five per cent of the voters make such petition to the City Council the Council is required to pass a resolution calling for an election within thirty days of receipt of same, and DuBois people may thus doff their city airs previous to the coming November election.

New York Yankees Virtually Cinch American League Flag

Babe Ruth, Home Run King, Laid Up In Hotel Room With Attack Of Grippe. Yankees Slaughter The Pill While Shutting Out Connie Mack's Babes In The Woods

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—The New York Yankees virtually ended the hectic race for the American League pennant when they defeated Philadelphia here yesterday afternoon 5 to 0.

The New York victory was something more than a shut out, and was greater for the reason that Babe Ruth was unable to play.

Just before the squad left for Philadelphia it was learned that Ruth, the Home Run King, was confined to his room in his hotel, in New York, with an attack of grippe, and was under a doctor's care.

However, it is believed he will have recovered enough to resume his place in the line up before the World's series.

Pfeister covered left field The Athletics were not only shut out, but secured only four scattered hits, only one of which was a clean one.

New York profited by triples and also a home run by Tamm, which materially aided the scoring.
